PREFACE

The Industrial Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Western Lines, offers every facility at its command in the locating of settlers, development of enterprises and manufactories at all points, and desiring to increase the industries along its lines invites particular attention to the superior advantages offered at numerous stations for additional manufacturing plants and to the many desirable business openings in this territory, as indicated in the following detailed information, showing population, industries located in each town, volume of shipments of Agricultural products, manufacturing and business opportunities, and such other information that would be of value to the prospective settler, manufacturer, or business man looking for a new location.

It will be of interest to note a few figures, which will show some of the enormous wealth-producing powers of the Great Canadian West. For instance the estimated grain crop of the Prairie Provinces for the year 1911 is, wheat 178,260,000 bushels, oats 187,335,000 bushels, barley 33,187,000 bushels, flax 5,425,000 bushels.

In addition to the grain crop it was estimated at the end of 1910 (accurate figures for the year 1911 not yet being complete) that the potato crop would yield $1,563,000, turnips and other roots $826,000, hay and clover $2,429,000, cattle $9,568,611, hogs $1,538,620, sheep $194,190, horses $10,071,300. The live stock values are at Winnipeg and do not include consumption at local points which would necessarily very much increase the above figures. Dairying, creameries and poultry farming yield large revenues.

It is estimated by the Geological Department of Canada that the total coal content of the three Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, together with Eastern British Columbia, is 143,490,000,000 tons, covering an approximate area of 22,506 square miles. In the above total it is estimated that the various classes of coal occur in the following proportions:

Anthracite . . . . .	400,000,000 tons
Anthracite and semi-anthracite . . . . .	860,000,000 "
Bituminous and semi-anthracite . . . . .	43,070,000,000 "
Coal and Lignite Coal . . . . .	99,160,000,000 "
	143,490,000,000 tons

The total coal production of the Province of British Columbia for the year 1910 was 2,800,046 tons; Alberta 3,000,000 tons and Saskatchewan 224,500 tons.

In 1910 British Columbia produced in minerals alone $26,377,066, of which coal yielded $9,800,161, copper $4,871,512, gold $6,073,380, silver $1,245,016, lead $1,386,350, coke $1,308,174, zinc $192,473, and other materials such as marble, granite, etc., $1,500,000.

Lumber produced $17,160,000 in B.C., and this is an industry which is carried on extensively in the northern parts of the Provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba as well as in Western Ontario. In the latter province, west of the Great Lakes, the development of iron and other minerals is now in active operation.

The fisheries of the Pacific Coast alone produce something like $8,000,000 annually and employ 12,000 men. In addition to this there is the celebrated White Fish, a product of the inland lakes.

There are many important industries awaiting increased development, and amongst others may be mentioned the canning of fruit and vegetables. The production of all fruits and vegetables is growing rapidly, and there is already a large field for the establishment of fruit canneries.

The live stock industry lends itself to much greater development than is at present the case, and in this relation there is a wide field for meat packing and refrigeration, and with the completion of large Union Stockyards, in St. Boniface, Manitoba, in which all railways have joined and which are now under construction, a very large increase in the production of live stock should manifest itself.

One of the causes for the slow development of the silver-lead mining industry in the Kootenays has been the difficulty in treating the zinc product of these ores; but a process of treatment has now been perfected, and it has been demonstrated that ore carrying large values in zinc can be treated so as to save all values and produce a handsome profit on the spelter. When a sufficient tonnage of this ore is produced (and large bodies of ore are known to exist) there will be opportunities for the construction of smelters in the natural gas belt for the treatment of zinc, which, being done in Canada, will ensure the entire Canadian market in spelter and its by-products, with equality in the export market with the zinc producers of the United States.

Natural gas, which is found in large quantities along the South Saskatchewan River, in Alberta and adjoining territories, is being used in the manufacture of common, pressed and fire brick, tiling, sewer pipe and other clay products, suitable clay being found in close proximity to the natural gas fields.

The Dominion Government Geological Department are now engaged on a full investigation of all clays in Western Canada, and from a summary report already issued, it would appear that there are deposits suitable for the manufacture of every kind of brick, earthenware and allied products. The tremendous yearly increase in building throughout the West, opens a large field for the further development of clay industries.

Attention is directed to the unlimited supply of pulp wood, which exists in many parts of the Western Provinces. Large mills for manufacture of pulp paper are at present under construction, and other mills are already in existence, but this is a field which capital can extend almost without limit. Attention is drawn to the large cottonwood timber limits in B.C., as it is known this cottonwood is suitable for the manufacture of wagon parts, etc.

The water powers of the West (a very inadequate synopsis of which is printed at the end of this book) are enormous. Some of these powers are now in course of development and manufacturing of every description can be carried on here as economically (if not more so) as in any other part of the world.

The flax industry is only yet in its infancy, the production as shown above for the year 1911 being 5,425,000 bushels. There are several large linseed oil mills in the West at the present time, but additional mills will be necessary to keep pace with the increased demand for this product. No use is at present made of the flax straw, which is all destroyed. There is a large field for allied products such as flax tow (for upholstery purposes), linen wool, from flax fibre, etc.

The resources of this Western Country are so immense, and at the present time have been developed to such a small extent, that it is impossible to more than touch the fringe of what can be understood to be a large and important subject. However, what has been said may be sufficient to further direct the attention of capital to the West, where a profitable undertaking can always be accomplished, when worked on an equitably economical basis.

Attention is directed to the new towns which have just been put on the market and others which will be opened up next spring and summer on the new branch lines (some of which are already in operation) running from Regina to Bulyea; Craven to Colonsay; Outlook to Kerrobert; Carmangay to Aldersyde; Weyburn West, Irricana East, Lacombe East, Estevan West, Tilson West, Swift Current N.W., Swift Current S.E., Virden-McAuley, Moose Jaw S.W., Wilkie-Kerrobert, Wilkie-Anglia, Wilkie N.W., Lauder-Boissevain, Bassano N.W., Golder South, as shown on pages 73, 74, 103, 128, 99, 113, 120, 63, 105, 42, 82, 53, 110, 142.

The rapid expansion of our lines of railway and the new towns which are constantly being opened up naturally tends to increase the number of business openings that are available, and at the same time it may be that there are many opportunities shown in this book, which will be filled before it is in the hands of the public. Great care has been taken in compiling the information contained herein, the data having been collected from reliable sources.

The Industrial Department will at any time be glad to receive from Boards of Trade or Citizens of Towns along our lines advice of errors which may have crept in, and at the same time, will gladly welcome suggestions which will tend to the increased usefulness of this publication.

We are in close touch with conditions throughout this immense territory and desire to do everything possible to aid in its development and growth, and will consider it a favor if you will write to the undersigned for any information you desire regarding the resources of this great and growing country.

JOHN F. SWEETING,
Industrial Agent.

Winnipeg, Manitoba.

WESTERN ONTARIO

The following information relates to only that part of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Western Ontario, West of Port Arthur. The Cities of Port Arthur and Fort William are situate at the head of Lake Superior, through which, during the season of navigation, from April to December, the major portion of the huge grain crop of the West is shipped via the Lake Steamers to Eastern Canada and Foreign Markets. From the 1st of September, 1910, to 31st August, 1911, 93,625,238 bushels of all grains were received at these two ports and 85,543,702 bushels were shipped out via the lake and 11,618,702 bushels via rail.

This portion of Western Ontario lying between Port Arthur and the Manitoba Boundary is rich in iron ores, which have been developed extensively in some districts. There are large areas of excellent timber along the Kaministiquia, Winnipeg and Rainy Rivers and the Lake of the Woods, where the Lumber industry is successfully carried on. There are valuable water powers on the Kaministiquia and the Winnipeg Rivers which have been extensively developed, on the former near Fort William and on the latter at Kenora and Keewatin.

Intending manufacturers and others will be able to gather from the accompanying short synopsis the present development of the towns referred to which will act as a guide to this part of the Province. Additional information will be gladly furnished to all inquirers.

PROVINCE OF MANITOBA

This Province is 73,732 square miles in area (under proposed boundary extension this area would be increased to 229,926 square miles); of which it is estimated there is approximately 27,000,000 acres of arable land. The principal lakes with their areas are: Lake Winnipeg, 9,457 square miles; Lake Winnipegosis, 2,086 square miles; Lake Manitoba, 1,817 square miles; in addition to which there are a large number of smaller lakes scattered throughout the Province. The principal Rivers are the Red, Winnipeg and Assiniboine. On the former between the City of Winnipeg and Lake Winnipeg, Locks have been installed at St. Andrews, rendering navigation possible for large boats carrying merchandise and passengers between those points. The population of the Province at the census of 1911, was 455,869. In 1901 it was 255,211.

The climate is dry and invigorating with long warm summer days and cold bright winters.

The Railways have spread their tracks over a large portion of the Province, and the train service, both passenger and freight, is of the best.

The development of Electric Power from the various Rivers of the Province is materializing rapidly, and with this has come an abnormal increase in the manufacturing and industrial features of Manitoba. This factor is referred to in more definite terms in the individual paragraphs dealing with the Cities of the Province.

Its streets are wide and well paved, and its boulevards give the City an attractive appearance. Situated as Winnipeg is, in the famous Red River Valley, it is surrounded by an excellent farming country. There are extensive market gardens in close proximity to the City, and the cultivation of vegetables, etc., is a successful and profitable industry. There are over 504 acres laid out for parks, and the rivers lend themselves to good boating and canoeing. The Golf Links are excellent, and nearly every kind of Athletic sport is carried on. The rapid growth of the live stock industry throughout the Prairie Provinces, all of which stock must pass through Winnipeg en route to Eastern Canada and foreign markets, will certainly, with the establishment of these Union Stock Yards, develop the largest stock market in Canada, and in a few years will equal those of such places in the United States as Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City, South St. Paul, etc. There will be excellent opportunities for the establishment of Abattoirs, Meat Packing Plants, Tanneries, Glue Factories, and other industries incidental to the live stock trade. Those who have given this subject thought are convinced that the exportation of live stock on the hoof will steadily decrease and the export of meats under refrigeration will be substituted for the present methods. This will make St. Boniface and its Sister City, Winnipeg, so closely connected with it by several bridges across the Red River, one of the largest live stock markets and packing house centres on the continent. Manufacturers of any of the By-products are advised to watch this important undertaking.

PROVINCE OF SASKATCHEWAN

In area it is 250,850 square miles, of which 8,318 square miles is water. The land surface contains 155,092,480 acres. In the south extending as far north as Saskatoon, with the exception of a considerable district north of the Qu'Appelle Valley, comprising the Beaver Hills, Touchwood Hills, etc., the country consists of open rolling prairie. North of Saskatoon, extending to the southern edge of the Northern Forests, the country is mixed prairie and woodland, and is adapted to mixed farming and stock raising. North of this lies the great Northern Forests—a timber limit covered with spruce, tamarack, jack-pine, poplar and birch. The remainder of the Province is not so thickly wooded, though black spruce, banksian pine and poplar are found in its far northern parts.

The Province is traversed by the North and South Saskatchewan Rivers. In the farthest north is the Churchill River, then there is the Qu'Appelle and the Souris Rivers in the Centre and South.

There are some large lakes, among which may be mentioned the Athabaska 2,842 square miles, the Reindeer 2,437 square miles, Wollaston 906 square miles, Quill Lakes 163 square miles, Last Mountain 98 square miles and many others.

The best evidence as to climate is the production of the province—its grain, vegetables and live stock can compete with the best in the world. The atmosphere is clear and bright—a large proportion of sunshine, with a never-failing breeze to temper the heat of the summer days. The winters are cold but bright and dry.

Population at the census of 1911 was 487,892. In 1901 it was 91,279.

The grain crop for 1910 yielded:

WHEAT .....	72,666,399 bushels
OATS .....	63,315,295 "
BARLEY .....	5,859,018 "
FLAX .....	3,044,138 "

144,884,850 bushels

HAY, NATURAL AND DOMESTIC .....	1,590,956 tons
OTHER FORAGE CROPS .....	59,142 "

1,650,098 tons

POTATOES .....	6,174,302 bushels
FIELD ROOTS .....	2,560,502 "

8,734,804 bushels

The Live Stock in the Province during the year 1910 was as follows:

MILCH COWS .....	224,745 head
OTHER CATTLE .....	527,305 "
SHEEP .....	164,855 "
SWINE .....	329,046 "
HORSES .....	552,574 "

1,798,525 head

The number of head of Poultry was 4,626,118.

Dairying is now forging ahead and the co-operative system introduced by the Provincial Government is meeting with great success. During 1910 over 861,000 lbs. of Creamery Butter was produced; bringing in some $208,792.

There are large coal producing areas, the districts round Estevan, Roche Percee, Pinto, Bienfait and surrounding neighborhood producing large quantities of lignite coal, excellent for domestic use and stationary engines.

Lumbering is carried on extensively north of Prince Albert, which is the present centre of that industry.

There is an excellent railway service to all settled districts and each year shows a steady increase in opening up new tracts of country.

Attention is drawn to the new branch lines now under construction, full particulars in regard to which will be found on pages 73, 82, 99, 100, 103, 105.

The large and increasing number of settlers coming into the Province renders the opening up of new industries of paramount importance. The following information will show the present progress of the towns and enable business men to decide where to locate.

PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

The Province of Alberta with the Rocky Mountains as its Western boundary extends north and south from the 49th parallel to the 60th, comprising 162,285,600 acres in area. Of this 1,510,400 acres is the estimated area of the Lakes and Rivers, leaving 160,775,200 acres of land.

Over 100,000,000 acres of this area are exceptionally fertile lands, and in 1909 only 1,212,644 acres were brought under cultivation. The population at the census of 1911 was 375,434. In 1901 it was 73,258.

The principal Rivers of the Province are the North and South Saskatchewan, the Bow, the Red Deer and in the Northern half the Peace River and the Athabaska, the former being easily navigable for a distance of 800 miles, while the latter has for 90 miles a succession of rapids which will furnish inestimable quantities of power.

The more notable Lakes are the Athabaska (2,842 square miles), Lesser Slave Lake (480 square miles), and Lac la Biche (125 square miles), but in addition to these there are numerous smaller lakes, rivers and streams, several of the lakes being already favored as summer resorts.

In some portions of Southern Alberta, irrigation has been found beneficial and the question of irrigation of large tracts of land was taken up soon after the dry years which followed 1892. The Government went into the matter fully, the result being that a well considered and comprehensive Law was passed dealing with the whole subject, a system of surveys was instituted with the result that there is now a defined area under irrigation, with further irrigation under way.

This Company's Irrigation Block comprises a total area of over 3,000,000 acres. It is divided into three sections, the Western containing 1,039,620 acres has already 370,000 acres under irrigation. A huge dam is under construction at Bassano which will supply water for 440,000 acres of the Eastern Section, which has an area of 1,151,224 acres. Rough estimate of total expense of completing the three sections, $18,000,000. The central section contains 901,737 acres and can be irrigated from the Western Section. When completed it is estimated that the number of miles of main and secondary canals will run approximately to 4,000. The irrigable areas produce luxuriant yields of alfalfa and other fodder crops, sugar beets, malting barley, field peas and all high grade crops grown on farms where dairying, poultry and stock-raising are practiced. The non-irrigable areas are well adapted to the production of winter wheat and other cereals, and apart from this, produce the world's finest pasture.

All inquiries in connection with the irrigated lands should be addressed to J. S. Dennis, Manager, Alberta and B. C. Lands, Canadian Pacific Railway Co., Calgary, Alta.

The grain yield of the Province for the year 1910, in accordance with the report of the Provincial Department of Agriculture was:

SPRING WHEAT .....	5,697,956 bushels
WINTER WHEAT .....	2,206,564 "
OATS .....	12,158,530 "
BARLEY .....	1,889,509 "
FLAX .....	46,155 "
RYE .....	28,306 "

TOTAL ..... 22,027,020 bushels

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

The variety of winter wheat most extensively produced in Alberta is a hard wheat known as "Alberta Red," being an improved variety of "Kansas Turkey Red," and it has now become of world-wide fame.

Cattle ranching is carried on extensively, the total number of cattle in the Province for the year 1910 being:

HORSES .....	254,200
DAIRY COWS .....	94,100
BEEF CATTLE .....	113,100
ALL OTHER CATTLE .....	445,000
SWINE .....	171,400
SHEEP .....	155,300
TOTAL .....	1,233,100

ROOTS.

POTATOES .....	1,633,748 bushels
TURNIPS .....	13,333 tons
CARROTS .....	3,370 "
MANGOLDS .....	3,340 "

Coal Mining is carried on extensively; the total output for the Province in the year 1910 being 3,036,757 tons of coal. There are 154 mines in operation, employing 4,714 persons inside the mines and 1,808 outside. 196,249 tons of coke were produced and 108,996 tons of Briquettes. A glance at the Geographical Map, issued by the Department of Mines, Ottawa, will show the enormous coal areas which underlie this Province.

The central and unopened northern portions of the Province are particularly well adapted for mixed farming. Stock-raising and grain-growing are practised with equal success; dairying and poultry farming also offers every opportunity. The wide Southern prairies which were formerly held for ranching only, have, on repeated trials, proved to be a rich grain country, whose winter wheat (the Alberta Red) has already won fame over the continent.

In 1910 there were 55 creameries and 14 cheese factories in operation. The total value of the butter made in the creameries and the cheese in the cheese factories, together with an estimate of the butter made in the private dairies, is placed at $1,000,000.

The climate is dry and the atmosphere clear; the rainfall is light; while bracing air and long hours of sunshine are met with in every part of the Province. The winter in the North is cold, but unaccompanied by winds and so is not penetrating; while in the South it is a season of bright, cloudless days, with scanty snowfall, broken by periods of warm weather when the Chinooks drift in through the mountain passes. This warm, dry wind coming from the Pacific "eats" up the snow in a remarkable way, leaving the ground frequently bare during the winter months.

Transportation facilities, both for passengers and merchandise, are excellent and every year adds to the ease with which persons may perform journeys over long distances.

It will be readily understood that with the large and increasing number of settlers coming into the Province each year, the necessity for the establishment of new businesses and the opening up of industries is of paramount importance. A glance at the information compiled in this book will enable business people to ascertain present developments and requirements.

Attention is drawn to the new branches now in operation and under construction from Bassano, N.W., Carmangay to Aldersyde, Irricana to Standard and Coronation East. See pages 110, 128, 113, 120.

PROVINCE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Contains between 372,630 and 395,610 square miles and is traversed from North to South by four principal ranges of Mountains, the Rocky and Selkirk Ranges on the East and the Coast and Island Ranges on the West. The Province forms an irregular quadrangle about 700 miles from north to south, with an average width of 450 miles and a coast line exceeding 1,000 miles, having many fine harbors. There are several large Rivers: the Columbia, Fraser, Thompson, Skeena, Kootenay, Stikina and the Peace. The Lakes (the area of which aggregates 1,560,000 acres) are Atlin 343 square miles, Kootenay 220 square miles, Okanagan 135 square miles, Upper and Lower Arrow, 163 square miles, Quesnel, 147 square miles and Shuswap 124 square miles. The population at the census of 1911 was 380,787. In 1901 it was 178,657, exclusive of native Indians, Chinese, Japanese and Hindus. The climate is varied as is only natural over such a large expanse of territory, but as a whole it presents all the conditions that are met with in European countries lying within the Temperate Zone.

Of the great interior plateau Professor Macoun says: "The whole of British Columbia south of 52nd degree and east of the Coast range, is a grazing country up to 3,500 feet and a farming country up to 2,500 feet, where irrigation is possible," and the irrigation of lands where necessary and possible is being carried out, crop results being as successful as they are in the other Provinces.

To give the reader some idea of the variety of the resources of the Province it is only necessary to state that the leading articles of export are Fish, Coal, Gold, Silver, Copper, Lead, Timber, Masts and Spars, Furs and Skins, Fish Oil, Hops, Fruit and Vegetables. The Salmon Canning Industry of this Province and its immense Timber resources are world-wide facts, while the production of minerals is steadily mounting year by year and speaks of unlimited and as yet entirely incalculable productive powers. The total value of this Province's wealth-counting production in 1910 amounted to $100,742,595, of which manufactures lead with $35,000,000; Mining $26,183,505; Lumber $17,160,000; Agriculture $14,399,090, and Fisheries $8,000,000.

The total Forest area is estimated at 182,750,000 acres and there are nearly 200 sawmills in the Province, big and small, a large number of Shingle Mills, Planing Mills, etc. The output of Lumber for 1910 was valued at $17,160,000, and is steadily increasing. As a field for the manufacture of pulp and paper, British Columbia must stand as an attractive proposition and almost without rival.

The fisheries produce an annual average value of $8,000,000, the principal food fishes of the North Pacific being Salmon (five varieties), Halibut, Cod, Herring, Sturgeon, Bass, Perch, Trout, Sardines, Anchovies, Oysters, Crabs, Prawns, etc.

Agricultural and Fruit Farming is carried on extensively, wheat being grown principally, at the present time, in the Fraser Valley, Okanagan, Spallumcheen and in the country round Kamloops and the Thompson River Valley. Oats are the principal crop, the quality and yield being good. Potatoes, Turnips, Beets, Mangolds and all other Roots grow in profusion wherever their cultivation has been attempted.

The Fruit Industry, which produced $1,939,110 in 1910, is only in its infancy, but shows a steady increase. It is estimated that at the end of 1910 there were 100,000 acres planted with fruit producing trees, of which some 60,000 acres are bearing trees, and it is stated that south of the 52nd degree there are 1,000,000 acres of land that will produce all the fruits of the Temperate Zone, while Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries and small fruits are grown successfully as far north as Hazelton on the Skeena River.

Dairying produced $3,645,405 in 1910, and Hay and Grain $5,347,630. Poultry is successfully raised, and produced $335,375 in 1910, and finds a good market. Hop Culture is carried on in the Okanagan, Agassiz and Chilliwack Districts, the average yield being 1,500 lbs. to the acre and average price being 25 cents per lb. Hops are exported to England, where they sell in competition with the best Kent hops.

Cattle raising, which netted $2,236,490 in 1910, is proved to be a profitable business and capable of great expansion.

Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlotte Islands are rich in minerals, timber and agricultural lands, and offer exceptional advantages to capital in the development of their immense natural resources.

The trade of British Columbia is growing very rapidly, showing an increase of close on twenty million dollars in four years.

Attention is drawn to the new line under construction from Golden, South, which will open up the Columbia Valley for business enterprise. Full particulars on page 142.

It will be seen from the above brief sketch of this Province that opportunities of an industrial nature must present themselves and the short synopsis of the Towns given in this book will enable business men to judge of the attractiveness of industrial openings.
